

Very Indian
By Nissim Ezekiel

Dr. A. Noble Jebek Thomas TPGASC drnoblejk@thanthaiparipargasc.ac.in + 9199526 88838

1924-2004 post independence Indian English poet this poem is the outburst of his agony on Indian Society

he wants the whole Indian society to follow Gandhian principle of non violence to his knowledge ancient wisdom of India is best

We respect our culture and tradition

we humble ourselves second stanza reflects the stress outburst of Young generation towards society

We see the oxymoron of the poet by humble himself as a reader of newspaper for improvisation of language which defend the society to learn humbleness.

the Indrabehn incident hurts him a lot to feel for the youth's loss of patience--- the youngster who threw stone on Indragandhi to relieve his tension 🤔 in today's modern culture delete the tradition by following fashion as the core he uses Antony's quote to wake up the society from violence to non violence: In short future our country will get all the benefits as how the westerners are enjoying 😊

3 stanza comparing LASSI (teetotaler/soft person following Indian wisdom 😊) to WINE (fashion and violence 😞) for digestion

he does want to blame other nations like China, Pakistan than the diversity as state (maharastrian, punjabis, tamils) we have to be united for the growth of India he foretells that oneday Ramrajya will come

The unity of our nation alone help the foreigners to visit India continuously for the growth of economy if not nothing perish

